Temecula PRESENTS

The Alison Brown Quartet with special guest Joe Craven

With a unique and alluring sound best termed bluegrass/jazz fusion, Grammy Award winner Alison Brown has composed and played her way into the affections of fans of jazz-hued acoustic music with a unique voice on a relatively unexplored instrument, the five-string banjo. Multi-instrumentalist Joe Craven has been deemed "the world's most versatile sideman." Craven successfully creates a musically challenging and thoroughly delightful mix. Tickets: $27.00

Thursday, October 6 at 8 PM

Temecula Valley Master Chorale

A performance by the award winning local group, The Temecula Valley Master Chorale provides a repertory of choral music which seeks to nurture the public's appreciation of the life-enhancing qualities of the choral arts. With over 70 members, their mission is to provide local performances which will enrich the educational and cultural life of the community while performing quality musical literature.

Tickets: $17.50

Saturday, October 8 at 8 PM

Temecula PRESENTS Kid Ramos & Thee Rhythm Kings

A monster blues night with L.A.'s hard core blues veterans of the west coast music scene.

The muscular, pompadoured, Elvis-inspired David "Kid" Ramos began his love affair with the guitar at the tender age of five. Over the years, the amiable Ramos has played in a number of west coast bands including The James Harman Band and The Fabulous Thunderbirds. The powerful and electrifying Thee Rhythm Kings Blues Band is burning up stages all over California. Shuffles, swings, slow blues, and down and dirty blues, you name it - they have something for everyone.

Tickets: $24.00

Friday, October 7 at 8 PM

Temecula PRESENTS

Jake Shimabukuro

Known as the Jimmy Hendrix of the ukulele, 28-year-old Jake Shimabukuro creates incredible music. Energy, imagination, and innovation are words that best describe this Hawaiian ukulele virtuoso known for lightning fast fingers and revolutionary playing techniques. This is a special performance of youth, energy, and strings!

Opening Act: Antonio Ponterelli, prodigy rock violinist

Temecula's own award-winning 14-year-old electric violinist, rock singer and song writer, Antonio Ponterelli plays everything from modern rock, pop, classical concertos to soulful blues, is best known for his leading edge virtuosity on his "Viper", a six-string electric violin custom built by Wood Violins. Tickets: $18.00

Sunday, October 9 at 2 PM
